SUMMARY: The purpose of this course is to provide case study references and examples of intervention to support the knowledge learned in part 1 of this series. Case studies will be presented throughout lecture, pictures, and videos for different ages and populations impacted by picky eating and the presenter will discuss assessment and intervention while showing visuals of the actual treatment. Course instruction methods include lecture, demonstration, case studies, question/answers.

PRESENTER: Samantha Heidenreich earned her Doctorate and Masters degrees in Occupational Therapy from the University of St Augustine for Health Sciences in San Marcos, California. Her doctorate capstone focused on feeding and nutritional interventions for children with Autism Spectrum Disorder. Since graduating, she has spent all of her clinical time in the pediatric settings, with focus on various forms of assessment and intervention for children with feeding disorders and picky eating presentation. Samantha is certified in multiple specialized areas of practice related to feeding: Beckman Oral Motor Protocol, SOS Approach to Feeding, AEIOU Systematic Approach to Feeding, and has just completed the initial coursework to obtain her Certification in Orofacial Myology from the IAOM. She is a Certified Holistic Nutrition, and completed the AOTA certification in Nutrition, Chronic Disease, and Health Promotion. Samantha completed CST1 and CST2 through the Upledger Institute, as she works to earn her certification in CranioSacral Therapy. Samantha owns a pediatric outpatient therapy clinic in North Carolina, Integrative Wellness and Therapeutics. Financial - Received a teaching honorarium from Motivations, Inc. Nonfinancial - No relevant nonfinancial relationship exists.

OBJECTIVES: Upon completion of this course, the participant will be able to
